■ Format & Scoring

Wakeboard

— Execution : 33.3 Points

— Intensity : 33.4 Points

— Composition : 33.3 Points

Wakesurf

— Difficulty : 25 %

This is simply defined as how difficult each maneuver is based on any number of variables. Spins, stalls, embellishments, the way a rider lands, etc., all subjectively define how difficult certain maneuvers are in comparison to others. Variables reflecting Degree of Difficulty include, but are not limited to ;

- i. Number of rotations
- ii. Combos (combining maneuvers)
- iii. The direction a rider and/or board spins
- iv. Frontside or backside approach and/or finish
- v. Switch vs. regular stance
- vi. Grabbed, boned, stalled or other embellishments

— Intensity : 25 %

Judges should look for how aggressive and powerful a rider is performing their maneuvers. This is typically noted on the judge's sheet by a plus sign, "+". If the maneuver was incredibly powerful, the judge may place 2 plus signs next to a maneuver notation on the judge's sheet, "+ +". Conversely, maneuvers done marginally may have a notation with a minus " -" sign.

— Variety : 25%

The variety of maneuvers performed in a pass is what judges are looking for in order to determine the most versatile rider.

Wake surfing has categories of maneuvers such as: straight airs, surface spins, ollies, air rotational, combinations, etc. The volume of variety among the category of maneuvers performed relative to the other riders should be reflected in the subjective scoring category of "Variety." Items to consider when evaluating Variety include, but are not limited to :

- i. Were the maneuvers all based on the same trick?
(360, 540, 720 are all similar)
- ii. Were the grabs different?
- iii. Did the rider and/or board spin both directions?
- iv. Although not an absolute determining factor in scoring any subjective category, the total number of maneuvers performed will be given appropriate consideration.

— Execution : 25%

This is essentially how well the maneuver was performed and the level of control maintained by the rider throughout the completion of the maneuver. Perfection Judges are looking for how "clean" or how well executed EACH maneuver was in the run. Appropriate considerations for Execution include, but are not limited to :

- i. Approach

- ii. Body position
- iii. Degree of rotation
- iv. The axis of body and/or board
- v. Degree of solid grabs
- vi. Degree of boned leg
- vii. Length and control of stalls
- viii. Flow and composition of the overall run
